

The “Wet op het financieel toezicht” (Wft - Financial Supervision Act) applies to the activities of our company. The requirements as stated in this Act demand that, before entering an agreement, consumers are provided with insight in the financial services our company offers. The Nacora Services Guide has been drawn up for this purpose. Should you wish to learn more about certain subjects, please feel free to contact us.

Our relation with insurers

Our membership of Adfiz (Dutch Association of Independent Financial and Insurance Advisors) gives you the guarantee that the services that we offer are fully independent.

This means we are completely free to advise you on all products of all insurers and lenders. Nacora has no contractual obligations to provide services on behalf of any insurers or lenders. No financial institute holds shares or has voting rights in our company.

Which insurers do we involve in our advice?

As a result of the scale on which we operate we do have special arrangements with a number of insurers. Through these arrangements we are able to make attractive offers with regard to the pricing and contents of the insurance cover. Based on your personal situation we help find which products of these companies best fit your specific requirements.

Unbound selective mediation

Marine cargo and marine liability insurances are mainly placed in our proxies, because of the extensive underwriting options and the claims handling by Nacora's own competent and experienced staff.

Remuneration

After providing our services we will receive a commission from the insurance company or financial institute as part of the premium which is charged to you. All quotations are including this commission, unless stated otherwise.

Internal remuneration policy

The remuneration of our employees consists for the most part of a fixed salary, which are market-conform. Depending on function and reviews, employees may receive a variable remuneration to a maximum of 20% of their fixed salary.

We regularly assess and manage our employees regarding honest, solid and customizable actions. This assessment determines the amount of the fixed salary and the level of variable pay.
